

We remain fully operational during New Zealand's COVID-19 lockdown

27 March 2020

Buddle Findlay is committed to doing everything possible to 'flatten the curve', that is to minimise the impact of COVID-19 in New Zealand, on our communities in general, and on our public health system.

While New Zealand is in lockdown, Buddle Findlay remains fully operational. Our people have been set up to work remotely and continue to provide services and support to our clients.

We are closely monitoring the situation to adapt our arrangements as it evolves. We are aware that many businesses are facing unprecedented challenges and we are here to support you and your organisation.

Stay safe New Zealand. Kia haumarū te noho.
